About Chembio Diagnostics, Inc.

Chembio Diagnostics, Inc. (OTCQB: CEMI), a profitable microcap company, develops, manufactures, licenses and markets point-of-care (POC) diagnostic tests for the detection of infectious diseases in humans and animals. Chembio's patented Dual Path Platform (DPP®) enables improved accuracy, multiplexing, and greater sample control. Several new tests have already been developed. A 3,000 patient clinical trial for an oral fluid HIV test is nearly complete and FDA approval is anticipated in late 2012 or early 2013. Chembio has collaborations with Alere Inc. (ALR), Bio-Rad Laboratories, Inc. (BIO), and the Oswaldo Cruz Foundation (FIOCRUZ), Brazil's preeminent public health institute through which five DPP® products were approved in 2010-2011, and which are now providing significant new product revenue streams to Chembio. During the 3rd quarter of 2011, revenues were $5.9 million and net income exceeded $.5 million. There are 69.6 million fully diluted shares, of which 12.4 million are held by management.
